

PiLam Temple

PI LAMBDA PHI TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

PA ALPHA DELTA CHAPTER EST. 1924

PiLam Returns to Broad Street

Since refunding in 2009, the PA Alpha Delta Chapter has called 1520 N. 17th Street it's home. The beautiful, historical row home between Oxford and Jefferson streets has been witness to the last 10 years of chapter history, and the many brothers who have passed through its halls. However, after years of dilapidation and significant chapter growth, it is no longer suitable for the chapter's needs. Last rush, our chapter had over 175 potential new members, and during rush events it was almost impossible to fit everyone inside the small house. Socials with sororities during the winter are almost impossible without being able to fit in a third of the group attending. With around 73 active brothers at the end of this semester, having only 13 spots makes living in the house competitive and difficult. Holding chapter meetings in the small Chapter Room is nearly impossible.

Last fall, one of our newer brothers, Alex Rosenberg ('17) was evicted from his apartment building on Broad Street. Upon moving out, he discovered that the new owners desired to house a fraternity in the building's new configuration. The rest of course, is history. We partnered with Kameron Zitelli of XIX Companies who will be managing the property for us.

The new PA Alpha Delta Chapter House will be residing in the historical, 4-story 10,000 square foot 1432 North Broad Street, located at the corner of Broad and Jefferson. The house will board up to 30 members of PA Alpha Delta per year. Notable features include a newly expanded Jerome R. Balka Chapter Room, a newly dedicated Alfred Kovner Memorial Hall, an Executive Board lounge featuring original restored woodwork from the house's construction, 4 additional living rooms, six kitchens, a weight room, cookout porch, backyard, and more. The house is 50 paces from Rite Aid, 100 paces from the Fresh Grocer, and can be seen diagonal from the steps of Morgan Hall, currently Temple's largest dorm. The process for hosing selection was so competitive, we had more brothers than spaces available, and are gearing up for potentially the most exciting room selection draft in recent chapter history.

Chapter rendering of the new PA Alpha Delta Chapter House at 1432 North Broad Street where Pi Lambda Phi will be moving this summer.

We are truly excited to bring PiLam back to Broad Street, and are grateful such an amazing opportunity opened up for us at a time when the chapter's momentum on Temple's campus is red hot. We hope having this new platform will help us continue this momentum into the next few years as PiLam sets the standard for Greek life in Temple's Inter-Fraternity Council.

The 2018 Chapter Leadership

A Note from the Rex...

I would like to thank the chapter for putting together one of the most successful years in the history of our chapter. On all fronts from recruitment and standards, to housing and philanthropy, PA Alpha Delta has exceeded expectations and created a new standard for IFC Fraternities at Temple. Every brother has worked incredibly hard to fulfil their duties, and it is because of this highly engaged brotherhood that we have been able to reach new heights. I look forward to seeing what we can accomplish next year.

Alexander Derbyshire ('16),
Rex PA Alpha Delta

ZACHARY HEISEY ('16)

ARCHON
Vice President

JOHN GABRYS ('17)

KEEPER OF THE EXCQUEUR
Vice President of Finance

JACK "JIT" KANTER ('17)

MARSHAL
Vice President of Risk Management

J.P. FLEMING ('17)

SCRIBE
Vice President of Communications

JACKSON MARSHALL ('17)

PROLOCUTOR
Vice President of Recruitment

ZAC SOILIS ('15)

PLEDGEMASTER
Vice President of
New Member Education

Raising the Bar for Greek Life

PiLam sets New Standards in 2018 University Accreditation

The core of Temple University's evaluation of Fraternity and Sorority life is the Diamond Accreditation process. This deep audit of each chapter occurs every spring, and allows the University to examine the standards of each chapter to ensure they are living up to the school's standards. Over the last year, Pi Lambda Phi has exceeded expectations, and has come out as a leader in almost every category measured during the auditing process. With a cumulative GPA of 3.18 and rising, Pi Lambda Phi has not only attained the highest GPA in the Inter-Fraternity Council, but also out of all male Greek organizations on campus. Our academic plan has received high praise from University officials, being described as "The most detailed and well-executed academic plan [Temple] has ever seen" at the Student Organization Awards Ceremony in April where PA Alpha Delta was awarded the highest honor for Academics and Standards.

In addition to the honors for academics, PA Alpha Delta was also recognized for having an outstanding Chapter Advisor in Alex Billotte who has been incredibly supportive of the chapter in recent years during both good times and bad. Pi Lambda Phi was the only Inter-Fraternity Council member to be recognized at the awards, and was the only Greek organization to be awarded twice. In the midst of our achievement, we have been asked by administration to serve as a mentor chapter for Pi Kappa Phi, the IFC's newest addition, which will be chartering next spring. Our Executive Board will be working with them to help them establish their presence and instill good practices in running their chapter.

Additionally, we have been invited by the University to mentor struggling IFC chapters in an effort to raise the IFC's standards overall. We are incredibly grateful to have recruited several successive classes of high-achieving and well invested men, who we hope to continue the trend of keeping PiLam at the forefront of Temple Greek Life.

1520 Alumni-Undergrad Golf Outing Freezes Over

It was a freezing cold, early morning in April at Cobbs Creek golf course, but spirits amongst the brothers ran high. The undergrads and recent alumni partnered for a few holes of golf pitting the experienced golfers against the inexperienced casuals in an anticlimactic race to nowhere.

While most groups gave up counting halfway though, and the thick layers of coats prevented some from achieving a full range of motion, fun was still had with golf course shenanigans over the few hours the jolly laddies took over the course. Some were able to stay slightly warm in the sun and enjoy some cart-service hot dogs before they went cold.

As fun as it was, everyone is looking forward to another round in the fall, hopefully this time with more sun screen and less hand warmers.

The tournament trophy however, beautifully designed by the Sigma Class, has gone missing. If you know of it's whereabouts, let us know!

Pictured right: Brother Jackson Marshall practices his swing at the driving range.

Service and Philanthropy

This past year, PiLam engaged in numerous service and philanthropy events with organizations from all over Greek life and student activities. All around the City of Philadelphia, PiLam's could be found helping others and engaging with the community. Some of the highlights from our events include the Get Your Rear in Gear run, where PiLam assisted in the marathon operations and received a double stipend for staying extra late to assist the run staff even after we were released.

Pi Lambda Phi's Challenge Day at Frankford High School was a great event with PiLam International's Elimination of Prejudice fund to increase understanding and awareness among classmates at the school though discussing experiences and engaging in activities. Boo at the Zoo was a fun event where PiLams were stationed all over the Philadelphia Zoo for Halloween, handing out candy to trick-or-treating kids and learning about some of the animal exhibits open for the day.

PiLam also participated in Red Goes Green, a recycling event at Citizen's Bank Park with the Philadelphia Phillies where brothers collected recyclables and kept the park clean during gameday.

On Campus, many more events were held. PA Alpha Delta has continued its longstanding tradition of "Pi Lambda Phried Oreos", selling delicious fried cookies to raise money for the Ian Mentzer Fund and the Elimination of Prejudice fund. We worked on multiple block cleanups with other IFC members, sororities including Alpha Xi Delta, and multicultural greeks such as Delta Kappa Delta sorority. Brothers participated in the Step-It-Up 5k for Autism Speaks and the "Walk TU" against sexual assault. We are really looking forward to continuing to grow our service and philanthropy program, and return to work with some of the same organizations again next year.

Brothers helping the sisters of Alpha Xi Delta with a bake sale fundraiser in the Student Activities Center

PiLams manning the water station of the "Get Your Rear In Gear" Colon Cancer run

Brothers Alex Rosenberg and Alex Zelger at the "Puppies Against Prejudice" fundraiser near Alumni Circle

Brothers helping out at the Sunday Breakfast Rescue Mission food bank and homeless shelter.

Eliminating Prejudice

PiLam partners with Queer Student Union in EOP Week

One of the most important things to Pi Lambda Phi is our national philanthropy, the Elimination of Prejudice. Every chapter meeting we speak the creed, vowing to uphold freedom which implies the Elimination of Prejudice. Now more than ever, this message resonates with the college community where social issues are dominating the conversation. That is why the PA Alpha Delta Chapter wanted to take advantage our platform as a greek organization to challenge stereotypes and put our mission out there for the university to see.

PiLam partnered with the Queer Student Union to run the Eliminate Prejudice at Temple Week April 23 – 27. Central to the events was the “Wall of Prejudice”, a wall constructed outside Ritter Hall where students could write about times they felt they were marginalized or experienced prejudice. This would lead to a discussion with PiLam brothers and members of the Queer Student Union about these experiences. It was a great learning experience, and helped show the Temple community that PiLam is more than just a frat, and wants to be supportive of the progressive changes college culture is going through. In addition to the week-long wall event, we also hosted a short film screening with selected films from the Queer Film Collective and a discussion and talkback panel at IDEAL, the University’s Institutional Diversity office.

EOP TEMPLE

Members of the Queer Student Union and brothers of PiLam stand by the “Wall of Prejudice” outside Ritter Hall during EOP Week at Temple. Passers by could stop to write about a time they experienced prejudice on the wall.

Overall, the week was very well received by the community, and many more people had a chance to see what PiLam is about. We were happy to have positively surprised many members of the community, and hope other greek organizations will follow in scheduling diversity based events to help improve the face of greek life, and leave a positive impact on the lives of marginalized students.

Who's-Who in PA Alpha Delta?

Jake Epstein ('16)

This member of the Omicron Class may be one of the most active students at Temple University. In addition to being a former E-Board member of PiLam, Jake is also in his third year as an RA, and just finished serving as Deputy Chief of Staff for Temple Student Government. Here he is pictured meeting Vice President Joe Biden this past semester

Nate Weaver ('16)

This country music loving member of the Xi class has quite the voice for radio! Nate has not only worked at Temple's student run radio station WHIP as news director, but has also worked as a promotions assistant for iHeartRadio and interned with the John DeBella show this past year. Make sure not to touch that dial when you here Nate come on air!

Hooter the Owl ('??')

While Hooter's identity is a sworn secret here at Temple University, we can give you a few hints as to who this super active brother may be. If he isn't sweating inside a large mascot suit, he is either powerlifting at the gym or pulling an all-nighter in the TECH Center. Can you guess who it might be? Technically, if he passes his upcoming MCATs he may one day be "Dr. Hooter".

Alex Rosenberg ('17)

One of our newer members from the Rho class has been bitten by the politics bug. When not hanging out at the PiLam house there's a good chance you'll spot him out on the campaign trail. Rosen works for Lindy Li for Congress as well as for U.S. Senator Bob Casey doing all kinds of political work around Philadelphia.

Not Four Years, but a Lifetime

Michael Palizkar ('15)

Mike “Policecar” of the Nu class will sadly be leaving us this semester as he departs for Georgetown Law. After a highly successful career at Temple attaining a B.S. in Bioengineering as an honors Pre-Law student, working as a records coordinator for a local law firm, and serving as our chapter “Pro-Lock-Your-Door”. We sure hope we never end up one the wrong side of the courtroom from this future ace attorney!

Anmol Hegde ('15)

One of the most recognizable PiLams, Anmol from the Mu Class has turned into quite the film mogul. After a successful summer in LA last year, Anmol has found himself credited on several highly successful television series including Adult Swim’s “Mr. Pickels” and Netflix’s “Big Mouth”. Maybe he will make a movie about PiLam one day?

Andreas Kraus ('15)

If you ever struggled with math or statistics and turned to the tutoring center for help, you may have met this master of Microsoft Excel and member of the Mu class. Andreas has had a busy career as our K.O.E., working for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a retirement planning firm and more. Next year he takes his talents to UCLA for his Masters in Financial Engineering.

Mahim Siddiqui ('18)

A new addition to the chapter this semester, Mahim of the Sigma Class has already built a pretty impressive resume at Temple University. From working in the library of the Beasley School of Law, serving as the Director of Finance for Fox’s Financial Management Association, and working in the Undergraduate Admissions office as an Owl Ambassador. We can’t wait to see what lies in store for this new fratre.

PiLam Celebrates Eagles Win

Philadelphia Eagles Defeat New England Patriots in Super Bowl LII

Emotions ran high at 1520 North 17th street in February as we geared up to watch the Philadelphia Eagles take on the New England Patriots in Super Bowl LII.

The chapter room was packed that night as all of PiLam's Eagles fans (and two Patriots fans) watched the game nervously. After a rollercoaster game with highs and lows, cheering broke out in the final minutes of the game. What ensued was a storming of the streets as Temple University collectively emptied onto Broad Street under fireworks and sirens. The brothers of PiLam charged down Broad Street to City Hall alongside the rest of the City of Philadelphia to take part in the massive celebration of our city.

In what may go down as some brother's favorite memory, the chapter organized a group to go together to the Superbowl parade in Center City the following week to see the Lombardi Trophy hoisted at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and hear Jason Kelse's all time great speech.

With classes cancelled and everyone excited, the weeks between the NFC Championship tailgate and the end of the Superbowl Parade were the definitive highlight of this year at Pi Lambda Phi.

Here's to hoping the 'birds can put it together again next year for another exciting season, and maybe even another legendary celebration.

Kyle Carney and Patrick Dallas outside City Hall during the middle of the after-game celebrations.

Alex Rosenberg celebrates outside of Hahnemann University Hospital on North Broad Street

Seth Horvath and Luke Motolla outside of City Hall after marching south from Temple University

Liam Parsons-Meyer, Kyle Carney, John Gabrys, Zach Heisey with Alumni Brian Booth and Julian Aldinger at the NFC Championship

Seth Horvath, Zach Heisey, Alum Joshua Matthew, Colin Gilchrist, Liam Parsons-Meyer, Dan Bunker, John Gabrys, Pat Dallas, Dan Hoban, Dom Scarano, Nate Weaver, “House Mom” Rachel Lynn, Adam Hann, Jake Epstein, Alex Derbyshire, Kyle Carney, Reece Maurer and Alum John Manning pose for a group picture at the NFC Championship tailgate.

Mitchell Hunt, Alex Derbyshire, Jake Epstein, Zach Heisey, and Adam Hann celebrate outside the Ritz Carlton minutes before the awning is brought down in the celebration.

Phil Spence (PiLam Florida Delta) and Rex Alex Derbyshire outside Lincoln Financial Field during the NFC Championship .

Responding to Issues in Greek Life

Alpha Epsilon Pi Scandal Prompts Response from PiLam

This past semester, greek life at Temple has had to deal with it's own internal issues. The brothers of Pi Lambda Phi were deeply upset to hear about allegations surrounding Alpha Epsilon Pi's chapter here at Temple. In addition to joining other greek organizations in blacklisting the fraternity while the investigation is ongoing, we were the first individual organization to release a statement condemning the fraternity for the allegations.

Most importantly, we wanted to offer support and show the Temple Community that upstanding members of the greek community need to stand up to issues within their councils and bring an end to the problems that contribute to negative stereotypes about greek life. We were happy that our statement was well received by the Temple community, and hope our house will be a safe space for everyone at Temple for years to come.

Πι Λαμβδα Φι

1520 N. 17TH STREET
PHILADELPHIA, PA 19121

Temple University

PA ALPHA DELTA CHAPTER
ESTABLISHED 1927

*The First Non-Sectarian Fraternity
"Not Four Years, But A Lifetime"*

March 30, 2018 – TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

In light of recent events, the PA Alpha Delta Chapter would like to express deep concern over allegations towards Alpha Epsilon Pi here at Temple University. We want to be clear that we, as an organization, will not work alongside others who do not uphold our institutional values or make the community that we are a part of feel less safe. It has been our chapter's longstanding cause to "Eliminate Prejudice". We believe that no society can flourish unless freedom, honesty and justice prevail over prejudice, hate, and violence, and that all men should strive be a gentleman at all times. Taking from these founding values, we would like to stress that Pi Lambda Phi has zero tolerance for sexual assault, misogyny, or racism of any kind. We fully stand by the Temple University Administration in their ongoing investigation regarding the matter, and hope they will invest all of the necessary resources to improve and increase its efforts to fight these issues on and off campus.

We would like to encourage members of the Temple community who feel that they have been victimized to speak out against any problems within Temple Greek life or Temple University as a whole. We encourage victims to utilize the many resources provided by Temple and to seek help where they feel it is needed. We, as an organization, have taken decisive steps in the fight against sexual assault and will continue to utilize our platform as a fraternity to generate awareness and stand in support for those who have been victimized. We will also continue to take action against those who seek to promote injustice, intolerance, and violence while promoting and working with the many groups at Temple that advocate for inclusivity, tolerance, and safety. We understand that it is our responsibility to speak out for any change we feel is necessary within our community and we hope that this statement serves as a positive example of what Greek life at Temple stands for.

Fraternally,

The Brothers of Pi Lambda Phi PA Alpha Delta Chapter

Tuttleman Counseling Services
(215-204-7276) 1810 Liacouras Walk

Wellness Resource Center
(215-204-8436) 1913 N. Broad Street

Student Health Services
(215-204-7500) 1810 Liacouras Walk

Women Organized Against Rape (24 Hour Hotline)
(215-985-3333)

Temple University Police Department
(215-204-1234)

PI LAMBDA PHI FRATERNITY PA ALPHA DELTA CHAPTER, TEMPLE UNIVERSITY
1520 N. 17TH STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA 19121

Chapter Releases Strategic Plan

This past winter, the Executive Board got together to develop something new- a Chapter Strategic Plan.

The comprehensive operations layout covers all factors of chapter goals and requirements, laying out a framework for achieving new highs and maintaining responsible operations.

The Executive Board's goal in developing this plan is to set a precedent of organization and high expectations for achievement. Throughout the semester, and especially during the Diamond Accreditation process, the chapter was able to look back on this plan to measure success and achieved goals.

Areas of interest include recruitment, standards and education, programming, risk management, commitment to sexual assault prevention and awareness, and increasing inter-organizational cooperation with student organizations all around the university, not just in greek life.

You can read the full strategic plan on our chapter website at sites.temple.edu/pilambdaphi and you can read the Temple University Community Report on all greek organizations on the Student Activities website.

PiLam Featured in Temple News

Story on Increased GPAs Across Greek Life Focuses on Academic Successes of Pi Lambda Phi

In September the Temple News did a feature looking at an across the board increase in GPAs among greek organizations at Temple University. The focus of this article was connecting it to the implementation of a “deferred recruitment policy” in 2015.

This new policy prevented first semester freshmen and students with less than 12 credits from attempting to join a greek organization, and has been accredited as a contributing factor to the increase in GPAs in greek life.

Prior to the implementation of the policy, the university did not have any academic requirements of new members. Now, the university requires 12 credits and a 2.5 GPA. This however, is still under the standard of Pi Lambda Phi which requires a minimum GPA of 2.75 for all of it’s new members and requires it’s members to stay above a 2.75 for the entirety of their membership.

Members of the previous E-Board; Marshal Zach Heisey, Prolocutor Jake Epstein, and K.O.E. Andreas Kraus photographed at a September 4th meeting.

This occurred as the chapter was implementing it’s new “tier system” academic plan, which has not only provide positive results but has caught the attention of the University who awarded the chapter for Excellence in Standards and Academics for the 2018 school year. PiLam is looking forward to another successful year in academics, and strong performance from all of it’s members striving to earn their degree.

Brothers to be “Safe Zone” Trained

While working on the Elimination of Prejudice Week project, it came to the attention of the leadership that the Office of Student activities has a program for students to obtain “Safe Zone” training. The Safe Zone project is a free resource for creating “powerful, effective LGBTQ awareness and ally training” through workshops.

As an organization who’s central philanthropy is the Elimination of Prejudice, we think that having brothers participate in this training could be a great informative way to engage with our cause and continue our work on the Elimination of Prejudice, even after the conclusion of EOP week.

We plan on conducting these trainings starting at the beginning of the Fall semester, with potentially a few member participating over the summer, and look forward to the benefits it could have for our chapter’s engagement.

A Farewell to 1520

Seth Horvath and Tony Abruzzi prepare for the evening's festivities dressed formal-casual

The top of the staircase on the 3rd floor bearing plaques from pledge classes of PiLam's past

The fraternity's letters adorned over this year's composite above the mantle in the Jerome R. Balka Chapter Room

Composites hanging by the staircase in the second floor corridor outside of Tony Abruzzi's Lizard Emporium

Chapter guests socialize in the stairs during an event, watch your step so you don't fall through!

The chapter room full of life on a Friday night early in the semester. (Pong table courtesy of Jackson and Hoban)

The Home of PiLam

The “T” Wall has adorned this 2nd floor single for years—and bears the names of many PiLams past and present.

Zach Heisey, Jackson Marshal, and Jack Walsh occupy the 3rd floor landing, a common loitering spot during events.

DJ “Dancefloor Donnie” Meyers is locked into his zone, feeling the music. You can even see the humidity in the air!

JP Fleming giving posing for pic near the chapter room entrance. Lookin’ sharp.

Jackson Marshal and Seth Horvath taking a seat on the bar, and watching the crowds get after it

Last but not least, the letters hanging from the 2nd floor, spending their final year on 1520 N. 17th Street.

PiLam Brother Hosts Professional Development Workshop for IFC

Tommy Walsh Organizes LinkedIn Instructional Session for Greek Life

This past semester, brother Tommy Walsh organized a professional development workshop at Temple University for members of the greek community. The workshop, hosted by a family member who works with professional development training, was open to all members of the greek community, not just PiLams.

The workshop focused on getting connected with LinkedIn, the powerful social media platform for business professionals. As college students preparing to enter the job market, these invaluable skills are important assets to college graduates. Professional Development has been a focus of PA Alpha Delta's chapter activities this past year as we emphasize developing brothers for after graduation.

Brother John "Tommy" Walsh ('17) photographed on the podium at the United Nations building in New York City. Tommy Walsh has served as the Professional Development Coordinator for Alpha Delta this past year.

In Memoriam of Sam Cabelus

The PA Alpha Delta Chapter was heartbroken to receive news in April that Sam Cabelus, a member of the Omicron (Fall '16) Class had passed away after being involved in a tragic motorcycle accident.

Not long after pledging, Sam had to take a step back from college life to handle financial and personal issues. As a result he had not been the most present brother this past year, however always made the effort of come around the house when he was back in town, and brothers supported his efforts to continue his college education.

Sam was actively involved in the biking community at Temple University, and would often stop by the house to share his music recommendations and jam out with the brothers.

No stronger were the bonds with Sam, than those between the members of the Omicron Class who always strived to keep Sam in the loop even during his time away from Temple University. The brothers of PA Alpha Delta come together in expressing our sincere condolences to his family, and invoke our age-old motto in his memory, "Not Four Years, but a Lifetime".

BRO-FEST 2018
SATURDAY JULY 14TH
1520 N. 17TH STREET

"A FAREWELL TO 1520 HOUSE"
ALL PA ALPHA DELTA ALUMNI WELCOME

Uncovering Chapter History

Digging Deep into Paley Library's Special Collections on Greek Life

Pictured above: The 1925 class of Sigma Iota Sigma's Alpha Chapter, the local fraternity that would go on to eventually be the PA Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Lambda Phi after two mergers and 95 years.

This past year, brothers of PA Alpha Delta have spent time researching our past and restoring our history to the chapter house. As we prepare to move, the chapter has raised internal funds to finance the restoration of 13 digitized composites to decorate the halls of our new chapter house. In the process of doing so however, we dug deeper into the archives that Temple University has kept on greek life through past yearbooks and documents found in the Special Collections department of Paley Library.

Most recently, it was discovered while going over the 1927 Phi Beta Delta class record that the chapter was founded three years prior in 1924 as Sigma Iota Sigma, a local fraternity and the only chapter to ever exist. Sigma Iota Sigma was one of the founding members of Temple University's Inter-Fraternity Council, however as a local organization did not have access to the benefits that national fraternities had. As a result, they were accepted to merge with Phi Beta Delta in 1927, which of course would go on to merge with Pi Lambda Phi in 1941.

As we continue to re-record our history in new archives, we learn more about the brothers that came before us at Temple University.

NEWLY INITIATED BROTHERS

ALPHA RHO

Alex Zelger
Nick Mayo
Andrew Secundo
Michael Tang
Will Helbeck

FALL 2017

Alex Rosenberg
Colin Gilchrist
Nate Petonak
Luke Mottola
Walter Logan

ALPHA SIGMA SPRING 2017

Emmanuel Castro
Colin Curry
James Dillard
Brett Faralli
Patrick Glasstetter
Jack Kirchoff
Eric Levenkron
Daniel McShane
Noah Mitchell
Carmen Paone
Chris Pelc
Nick Romack
Mahim Siddiqui

Congratulations to all of our new members, and we look forward to the next not four years, but a lifetime!

Stay tuned for the Alpha Tau and Alpha Upsilon Class in Fall 2018 and Spring 2019.

CLASS OF 2018 NEW ALUMNI

ALPHA IOTA—FALL 2013

Daniel Walus
Quentin Holtz

ALPHA MU—SPRING 2015

Kyle Carney
Pat Dallas
Anmol Hegde
Nathan Markowitz
Nick Gallo
Mitchell Hunt
Andreas Kraus

ALPHA XI—SPRING 2016

Anthony Abruzzi
Reece Maurer

ALPHA KAPPA—SPRING 2014

Ryan Harvie

ALPHA OMICRON—FALL 2016

Jacob Epstein

ALPHA LAMBDA—FALL 2014

Jason Cushman
Seth Horvath

ALPHA PI—SPRING 2017

Joseph Stempel

ALPHA NU—FALL 2015

Bordain Smith
Jack Walsh
Michael Palizkar

Special Thanks to Organizations

As the year comes to a close, we would like to take the time to express a special thanks to all of the other organizations both at Temple University and around the City of Philadelphia for making this semester's events possible. We couldn't have done it without you.

We know there are many organizations that have helped us along the way, and we wish we could thank each and every one.

For our service and philanthropy events, among others, we would like to thank Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity, Delta Kappa Delta Sorority, the Temple University Inter-Fraternity Council, the Office of Student Activities, the Philadelphia Zoo, the Philadelphia Phillies and Citizens Bank Park, All Fitness Events for working with us on the charitable runs, the Queer Student Union for going above and beyond in helping us organize EOP Week, as well as Camp Kessem for working with us on philanthropy events.

Once again, thank you to all the organizations and businesses for helping make this a productive semester for PA Alpha Delta. See you next year!

